

Positive Looking Takeaways

“Fantastic new ideas to help promote good practice in my school – resource ideas”

“Ideas for making books and other things in school, love the glitter paper.

Loved the presentations – will use some of the information to run sessions.

Given me the boost to keep spreading and sharing the importance of VI and Positive Looking through out school to parents and staff and senior leaders.

Positive Looking Rocks!”

“The use of PowerPoints with the Story!”

“I have really enjoyed listening to all of the presentations today. All excellent and inspiring. It was also interesting to reflect on how far Positive Looking has come and the change made.

Going forward, I will share the news more, I also need to have another look at the app.

Thanks Gwyn. PS. Thanks for the lovely gift!”

“Daniel’s Hit the Mark Tracking Sheet. Creating high contrast story boards.”

“Everyday is a Positive Looking Day (All Day!) Especially in glitter!”

“That simple things can make any experience an adventure!”

“New ideas for Positive Looking resources”

“New creative ideas, new websites and contact details to share resources”

“Inspiration and motivation!!! Lots of practical ideas for resourcing and supporting schools with ideas for fun ways to develop visual skills!”

“Creativity in storytelling props to share with schools, inspired by Becky”

“The impact Positive Looking and visually friendly approaches are having across different places – so many great resources and people to network with.”

“Lots of different ideas to continue to work effectively with children with VI.”

“Super networking and time to share best practice with like minded people. Time to think of new ideas.

Glitter paper is the future.

Sharing information and knowledge about CVI.

Hearing about how our journey may progress.... We are ready to jump!

Thank you!”

“New friends and contacts. Target bags for visual skills. Board books – more creative. Making easy resources. Extra websites. Target board skills for assessment.”

“Lots of knowledge and contacts of other professionals. Being more creative.”

“Show time Story
How to create effective/inclusive stories.”

“Fantastic resources!”

“I feel inspired to make some multi-sensory vision stories. Lovely to meet people who are enthusiastic about Positive Looking.”

“Amazing story ideas. Sharing ideas and contacts with fellow practitioners. Learning very useful ideas to help our children.”

“How to incorporate Positive Looking techniques with a range of students”

“Resources that can be made – stories etc”

“I will be taking away making stories. Becky’s resources have inspired me to have a go!”

“Meeting like-minded people and seeing lots of great resources in action”

“Lovely resource ideas, especially around stories. Well done Becky!”

“You need to be in it, to win it. Positive Looking needs to be embedded into everyday so our students can win!”

“Be creative – the resources and how they are presented matter. Build visual stimulation into everyday classroom practice.”

“VI ideas for stories for the whole school, black, glitter paper.”

“Lots of new strategies to create opportunities for children with VI and CVI to use and build on visual skills.”

“I’ve developed the confidence to write my own VI friendly stories.”

“Looking at other professionals resources – simple, bright and bold!
Connecting with other settings to see how they thread Positive Looking approaches in their learning environment.

Many, many thanks.”

“Confidence to implement new ideas and use trial and error until I succeed, thank you Gwyn!”

“Great day, thank you! All children with vision impairment are different and you don’t need expensive resources to make a difference. Bright and bold all the way.”